Game Commission Heads Furnish Report Program Thursday

I. N. Kennedy, Executive Secretary, Is Featured Speaker Of Day

Prominent members of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission of the state, furnished the program for the Pahoekie Rotary club at yesterday's meeting in the Masonic temple. Dr. I. N. Kennedy, executive secretary of the commission, was the featured speaker.

Imman W. Weeks, member of commission from this fourth district was in charge of the program for the day and called on Mayor John Dulany to introduce Mr. Kennedy. L. G. Bruce, of Bartow, member of the commission from the first district, was also present for the program as was J. L. Billings, of Miami, chief conservation officer of the fourth district.

In an interesting talk Mr. Kennedy pointed out that the game in Florida belongs to all of the people—contrasted with foreign countries where the game belongs to the landowners. He told of the department's operation on money collected from hunting and fishing licenses—with not a cent coming from tax money of the state. Mr. Kennedy gave a brief review of the department's work in an effort to conserve the game and fish in Florida. He asked for the cooperation of every citizen of Florida.

The guest speaker Thursday is a Rotarian with an unbroken attendance record of 17 years. Joe Massey was a new member present. Harold Rosenberg and Game Warden Erwin Winte were guests. From the Belle Glade club were Jay Jensen, Russ Granger, Dick Bowman and "Doc" VanLandingham.

Hobsonmen Still Crippled and Sick For Game Tonight

Blue Devils Set On Their Heels By Stuart Last Friday

It's a weary crew of foot ball players that Coach Hobson has been working with this week. With half his men knocked out by flu and several others on the injured list—the popular coach will have to use a little magic to match a win out of the bag tonight against Fort Pierce. Then there is shock to overcome—the shock of losing the first game on Florida soil this year to Stuart last Friday night.

Hobson has shuffled his crew and late yesterday evening, said he would start the following boys—that is he will start them if they aren't suffering from cold or injury by game time tonight—were C. Sanders, Unwin, Roy Kaitz, Stover, Johnny Kautz, Fears, Mike Sanders, Peacock, Fowler, Dell and Frazer. Bill Cowen suffered a broken collar bone in practice this week and he's out for the season. R. B. Baxter is recuperating from an attack of pneumonia and he's out for a four year term in the 1939 primary.

Tuesday, November 28, Is Day Set For Hospital Election In Glades Section

Tuesday, November 28, 1939, is hospital election day in Western Palm Beach county—that section of the county lying west of Twenty-Mile Bank. According to Attorney Herbert D. Beck, Belle Glade, sponsor of the bill in the 1938 legislature, all persons who were qualified to vote in the last general election are qualified to vote in the hospital election. To this number will be added those who have registered during 1939 since the re-registration law was passed requiring a complete re-registration of all voters in Palm Beach county.

Mr. Beck pointed out that should the bill gain the approval of the voters in Western Palm Beach county—a majority of all votes cast on Tuesday, November 28, will be appointed by the governor. The bill calls for appointment of three men from the incorporated town of Belle Glade, three from the incorporated town of Pahoekie and three at large from the section affected. Three men will be appointed for three years, three for two years and three for one year. By this plan of staggering the appointments it will be possible to have experienced men on the board when the next governor makes additional appointments to replace those whose term expires.

The Belle Glade attorney also said the bill calls for alternate meetings of the board—the meetings to be held monthly one month in Belle Glade and the next month in Pahoekie.

The county board has appointed officials for holding the election. They are as follows: N. C. Dickson, Selma Jones, S. F. Beard and Mrs. Blanche Armstrong; Chosen—Mrs. Gertrude Winnie, Mrs. Sam Fleming, Mrs. F. A. LaFila and L. W. Walter. Glades—Elsie Cherry, Walter Greer, Mrs. Allen Greer and G. L. Evans; South Bay—Mrs. E. E. Forbush, Mrs. H. C. Willis, Mrs. P. E. Goodbread and M. D. Hardy; Lake Harbor—Maude L. Layfield, H. D. Merriam, Mrs. H. E. Byrd and Miss Billie Scogin; Shawano—J. L. Murphy, Stanley Taylor, F. C. King and W. C. Lord. The usual polling places will be used in each precinct name. It was pointed out by the county board.

Migratory Camp Is Sought For Pahoekie By City Council

Action Taken At Adjourned Meeting Of Body On Monday Night

Pahoekie city council, at an adjourned meeting Monday night, requested the Farm Security Administration build an itinerant labor camp in this vicinity. It was pointed out that the migration of labor to this area during the vegetable season was undesirable and the number of laborers arriving often overtaxed the local facilities. The council decided to send a copy of the resolution to the Farm Security Administration.

The council announced it would be unable to authorize an industrial survey of the city's water supply. The council also decided to undertake the financing of the survey. The annual report of the city auditors was read by Clerk Walker and accepted. The auditors pointed out that the use of city water had increased 12 per cent during the year while collections of income from this source were down 12 per cent. A resolution was taken to collect water bills in arrears. The resignation of Reid Clifton from the police force was accepted.

We Present the Likenesses of Two Gentlemen Who Will In All Probability Battle to Become PALM BEACH COUNTY'S NEXT SHERIFF

The primaries next May will, in all probability, see a spirited battle between Sheriff W. Hiram Lawrence and Attorney L. R. Baker, both of West Palm Beach, for the office of Palm Beach county sheriff. In the 1936 election the present sheriff defeated Mr. Baker by something like 500 votes. The interest in the coming race between these two candidates will eclipse all other county races.

This, they hope, will halt the annoyance to patrons.

Former Broward Legislator May Make The Race FOR GOVERNOR

At this writing it looks like Senator Charles G. Andrews of Orlando is going to have plenty of fellows after his job. However, when they consider what a fine job he has done in Washington there is little doubt that the number offering for his place will dwindle before the may primaries.

AN ANNUAL PROBLEM

As bleak chill winter descends on less favored parts of the nation South Florida begins to be bothered again with a wide variety of those "gimme" boys—the fellows who stop in and touch you for a little money.

Probably the most troublesome of such itinerants are those who have something to sell—a magazine subscription, an advertising scheme, or some alleged charitable cause. But in many communities this class of snowbird is taken care of by business men, bureaus or chambers of commerce which check up on the merits of their money raising propositions.

Not so easily disposed of is another class of hand-out seeker—the man who comes into the office with a story of being stranded down here with his wife and children hungry or some such pitiful tale. Usually this type doesn't ask much—only a quarter for a meal or maybe, a half dollar. You don't mind taking a chance on being played for a sucker and helping these applicants until they begin to get numerous as they do every winter season.

Even in that case the average person, with a little sense to spare doesn't want to turn down someone actually in need. But who are the real need who are the chiselers? Referring a man who is in real need of help to some welfare department isn't always practicable; if he really is in distress he needs help right now and the help he needs usually is not given.

It would be fine if some local agency could be designated to investigate this type of applicant; give him immediate aid if he is deserving and railroad him out of town as a pushover if not. That is what he is found to be—Lake Worth Herald.

EDUCATION FOR FREEDOM

Let freedom ring, on every day, as on Saturday, November 11—Armistice day, and also the final day of Education week, dedicated appropriately in the program to Education for Freedom.

Freedom is the living heart of the American Way of Life.

But we cannot have freedom by talking about it or by listening to speeches about it on Armistice day and the Fourth of July: We must live freedom.

In practice, we must be passionately and zealous to guard the freedom of our neighbors.

Let no one say, unchallenged, that freedom is a dead ideal in America, that our patriotic and fraternal societies give but perfunctory service to it, in ritualistic honor to its symbols. We should denounce that libel and confound its authors as we, individually, and as members of organizations, demonstrate our devotion to Freedom and to patriotic and religious love of our fellow men, our Freedom inspires.

We may trace and take inspiration from the history of the battle for American freedom in the rebellion of our fathers against tyranny, in the institution by them of the charter of freedom that is our constitution; we may find the principles of a free people and a free government in the Jefferson and we may trace the thread of free American thought through many pages of oratory and judicial decision. Liberty and eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. With critical judgment and sound foundation of knowledge, we should separate false doctrine from true, even though the false may be enunciated at times, by the majority of justices of the supreme court of the United States and the true, by such minority exponents of American liberalism as the great and learned Justices Oliver Wendell Holmes and Louis Brandeis.

We who are Floridians, as well as Americans, may trace the thread in the recent minority opinion of Justice Brandeis and D. Brown in which the doctrine rings true that "the rights of the citizen cannot be separated from the rights by the whim of an official; that a child cannot be barred from the school room and the benefits of education because of the religious views of his parents; that patriotism in action consists of living in the American good-neighborly way, not of ritual and formality; that the Hitlerism of coerced show of patriotism is repugnant to American ideals and cannot be tolerated in our land."

Education for Freedom requires that each American learn the ideals and principles that are preserved in the Bill of Rights, and elaborated and implemented in the words and deeds of generations of great Americans; it requires that he learn to differentiate between false news, sounded by radicals, renegades, ill-informed professional patriots or by weaklings intimidated by the news of the deeds of the bad men of our time by men worthy to be descended from their sires.

Education for Freedom requires that each young American learn to accept for himself, and to live in, the American Way—a good neighbor and a patriot—Tallahassee Democrat.

MOSQUITOES VS. POLITICIANS

The prevalence of mosquitoes throughout the summer has turned the attention of Palm Beach County toward a program of mosquito control. For the first time in many years, the mosquito nuisance existed along the entire coast. Previously, the larger places, which were settled up, were never seriously troubled with the pest. This year, Miami Beach and West Palm Beach, as well as all the smaller communities had mosquitoes pretty well throughout the entire summer.

What is going to be the worst evil—the mosquitoes or the politicians? In the past, the people have preferred to put up with mosquitoes.

The history of special tax districts in this county and in other sections of Florida has been a sorry one. Although started for excellent reasons, they usually become the prey of political rackets. Taxes are assessed, officers and employees are appointed, lawyers get fees, high priced engineers are retained and all the taxpayers get is a bill. For proof of this sort of thing look into the history of almost any Florida drainage district.

Seeing what has happened in the past, many voters will hesitate to vote for a mosquito control district. Other voters, who still possess that simple faith that anything can be done by just holding an election and assessing a tax, will continue in their vote belief.

There are probably few persons living in Palm Beach County who would oppose paying their share for an efficient eradication of mosquitoes. If the taxpayer is to receive 100 per cent value for his money in such a program, the cost should not be prohibitive. The time is here when something must be done, but the voters must insist that as many safeguards as possible be made to keep the program from becoming a political racket.—L. C. H. in the Delray Beach News.

Governor Cone May Seek Senatorship In Coming Primary

State Executive Will Make Decision Within Next Two Weeks

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 8.—Gov. Fred P. Cone said Wednesday night, "It is my idea now that it will be a candidate" for the United States senate in next year's elections.

"I have been thinking about it," the governor declared, "I have not definitely made up my mind but I expect to do so within the next two weeks."

If he runs, he will seek the seat now occupied by Sen. Charles O. Andrews of Orlando, whose term expires in January, 1941, for a six-year term.

Andrews elected in 1936 to serve out the unexpired term of Fred Tamm, had announced he intended to seek re-election, and Charles Francis Cone of West Palm Beach, author and attorney, also announced his candidacy several weeks ago.

Governor Cone recently celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday. He suffered a severe illness last July from a heart ailment, but after several weeks in the hospital and a complete rest, he returned to his duties and appeared again in good health. Friends said he now is enjoying excellent health.

The announcement caught capital circles by surprise as there had been no discussion in political quarters here to indicate the governor's intentions.

Asked if he would resign as governor to make the senate campaign, Governor Cone replied "I don't know. They really don't usually do that, do they?"

He said he would have no further comment at this time about the matter.

If he enters the senate race, he will be following the course of other governors. Park Trammell was elected to the senate in 1916 while serving as governor. Sidney J. Catts, John W. Martin, Doyle E. Carlton and Fave Shute all ran for the senate after they terms as governor, but they were defeated.

Chas. A. Hardee, who followed Catts as governor, is the only Florida governor since the World War who did not seek election to the senate.

The governor had been mentioned as a senatorial possibility, however, in recent widespread reports in connection with the recommendation by Senator Claude Pepper of Senator Andrews for the federal judgeship left vacant by the retirement of Judge Alexander Lee Akerman in the southern district of Florida.

Senator Andrews had it that if Andrews received the judgeship appointment, Governor Cone would resign to accept appointment to it.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

One by one the gubernatorial aspirants are beginning to stick their little pink necks out and "showing" will continue to do so for the next month or so.

First to dive into the murky waters of the political pool was Judge George O. Baker, who evidently was influenced by the table of the Early Bird and the Worrier. But the splash he made was hardly noticeable and the ripple nothing to speak of.

Next came a chap named Rogers from St. Petersburg, whose nose-dive was even less spectacular than Walker's—and the two of them have been floating about usually unnoticed for some time.

Then came Burton Showman, who put a little bit more showmanship in his performance by climbing high clear up to Chicago on the high platform to stand poised for a moment with a glass of orange juice in one hand and a Townsend letter in the other. He hit the water with a splash that could be heard all over the state, developing waves rather than ripples.

Mayor Walter Fraser of St. Augustine, a more or less experienced swimmer, after taking the precaution to pay his admission fee, did a running broad jump, to land in the middle of the pond where three opponents already were cowering.

With his political pool beginning to fill, lot of other boys are now eyeing it as they hurriedly strip, preparatory to getting in the swim themselves.

This week in Jacksonville Publisher Warren is expected to take the plunge. He can be depended upon to to do plenty of thrashing and a splash about in an effort to "duck" his playmates, blow some whale and stand on his head.

Over in Deland, Francis Whitehair is reported to be on the verge of making a flying leap. He is no slouch as an aquatic star, and whether it is a case of swim, dive or float, he'll give a good account of himself. His financial "win" is better than that of most of his playfellows and he's not afraid of "deep water."

Up in Tallahassee Jerry Carter and Bill Hodges are trying to make up their minds. Both of them have played around in that pool before. They know it like a book, and can avoid the rocks, shipwrecks and quicksand. If either or both should decide to join the frolic, they will lead the rest a merry chase that only the best swimmers can hope to join in.

Fred Touchette of Avila Park has been sitting by the side of the pool, playing in the sand and time and will probably get his feet wet before it is over, while B. F. Falty of West Palm Beach has been blowing on a pair of water wings and may make in later.

Pat Whitaker of Tampa, a paid Harold Cole of Jacksonville have been playing "leap frog" on the bank for quite some time and were expected to join the party, but they don't like "cold" water and will probably stay it.

Jels Parrish and Spessard Holland have been "tittin' near-by" quakin' oranges and tryin' to make up their minds. Both have done a bit of plain and fancy swimmin' in the old sectional tank but they're a little afraid of "cramps" and they've had enough political experience to know that in a free-for-all dash across the troughs gubernatorial pool it is every man for himself and a guy hat better be plenty fit before he tries it.

The old diving platform is a long way from completion as the boys have been stealin' planks from each other. They've been "jokin' and pullin' at the Towns" send planks tryin' to get it away from Schoepf, while the Labor plank is so heavy that none of them have been able to lift it yet. And those who have succeeded in getting foundation posts down are now findin' 'em. The turtles are gettin' into them.

But the fun is really gettin' underway at the "Old Swimm' Hole" and gives every indication of becoming gay and boisterous as time goes on. The older boys who are experienced, are keepin' a watchful eye on their clothes and are worryin' about some TOUGH GUY nobody ever heard of before coming along and lickin' the tar out of all of 'em. Then, too, there is always the danger of DROWNING, and the mortality rate in this particular pool is exceptionally high.

YOUTH IS THE HERITAGE of every Floridian. Climate, natural advantages and man-made attractions make Florida mean health, happiness and youth to all the world. You'll see opportunities for staying young all around you when you look at young state through youthful eyes—eye kept young by home light-conditions.

See It Through Youthful Eyes!

You can't keep your eyes young, even in Florida, if your home lighting is bad. Dim or glaring lights not only threaten precious eyesight, but jangle nerves, set up nervous tension and bring on that tired feeling. You'll feel younger, more vigorous and look younger, too, when you install "big enough" bulbs in correct I. E. S. better-sight lamps. Ask us or your electrical dealer for details today.

IN YOUR HOME - FREE TEST

A Sunshine Service home adviser will call to check your lighting with a photo-electric sight meter. Take advantage of this free service. You'll be amazed to learn what a difference just a penny or two a night can make with scientific light-conditioning.

Nov. 12-18 Is "Book Week" At Library

Next week, Nov. 12-18, marks the first annual observance of Book Week. Started in 1919 by Franklin K. Mathiews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts, it was at first called "Good Book Week," because it began as a drive for better books, for placing them in homes to be read, and for making them easily accessible in public places. An earnest cause and not a grim one, planned in the beginning to foster books suitable for boys and girls, it has become a gay crusade dramatizing in happy celebration the joys of owning books, the pleasure of book companionship. Book Week has helped to build a list of new and better editions, and the finest and richest collection of books, for young people that has ever existed. Book Week has helped to promote reading for fun and enlightenment in schools, libraries, and homes the country over. Coming just before Thanksgiving, and Christmas, Book Week occupies an appropriate place on the calendar, ushering in the season of good will, of friendship, of gift giving. Though confined to a single week, it spreads enthusiasm for books through the holiday season on to all the months of the year.

This year's theme for Book Week is "Books Around the World." The following statement is all too true: "Never in the history of our country has it been so important that we understand our neighbors round the world." Book Week, with its emphasis on "Books Around the World," has, indeed, this year, a very definite application.

With the help of co-operating classes and individual students, the Pahokee High School Library staff is seeing that our libraries (the central library, at the elementary school is a project of the student staff) reflect the true spirit of Book Week. Attractive displays, contents, and posters will be on exhibit in the two libraries. Our two main features at the high school will be an "Informal Tea, Please" and a "Book Week" display. School patrons are invited to visit us, "play" with our switchboard, and see what "book politics" are like.

ARMISTICE DAY - - 1939

Twenty-one years ago guns ceased booming in Europe and we thought we had made the world safe for democracy. Today—a little more than a decade later—guns are booming again. On this day we honor those who fought and died on foreign soil—let's pause a and think seriously about America's future.

Before we become entangled in European affairs—let's think seriously about our boys of 20 years ago—who gave their lives in battle. Let's do all in our power to keep America out of another war.

To those living heroes of 1918, we say:
"Well done, Buddy!"

Hobson's Blue Devil Outfit Swamps Big Ten Squad, 32 to 0

Plant City Falls Before Onslaught Of Lighter Local Boys

Outweighed 18 pounds to the man last Friday night, Coach Frank Hobson's Pahokee Blue Devils swamped Plant City, 32 to 0. The score doesn't tell the story. It was an excellent game and an interesting one for the spectator.

Plays and passes brought the first period score, Frause, Baxter and Fowler doing most of the ball-carrying to move to the Plant City 25. Then Baxter kicked out on the 10-yard line and the Blue Devils recovered a Plant City fumble on the five. Frause passed to Baxter for the score.

In the second quarter Pahokee took the ball on the 19. Frause got away for 20 yards and Kautz added 12 more. Frause, Fowler, and Baxter moved along to the 50-yard line and Kautz went to the five, from where Frause swept around right end for the touchdown. Frause passed to Fowler for the point.

Jack Fowler executed a beautiful 50 yard run for a marker after his spike tackle after tackle on his spiked dash. Soon after Fowler scored H. B. Baxter later in the third quarter got off one of the most sensational punts ever seen on Laif field. It was good for 80 yards.

In another outstanding play of the game Baxter ran from punt formation on the Plant City 45, circled and crossed the goal line for another margin. On his run only one man stood between him and a goal. On one of the pre-tick blocks of the season Roy Kautz took out H. B.'s only opposition and the Blue Devils scored another six points.

The game was witnessed by the largest crowd to see the Blue Devils in action this season. Several Plant City supporters came along with the team and boosted the attendance.

Pahokee made 10 first downs and completed five out of eight passes, while Plant City was unable to gain on the ground, making six of their seven first downs on passes.

Cowen returned the next Plant City kick 20 yards, and Frause and Dell drove inside the Plant City 10. Frause filled a pass to Spooner in the end zone for the touchdown.

Quick War Relief Given by Red Cross

Shipwrecked U. S. Citizens, Wounded Poets, Refugees, Repatriates Aided

Washington.—The American Red Cross moved quickly at the onset of hostilities in Europe to organize relief for war sufferers and give aid to American citizens stranded in danger zones or rescued from sea-warfare catastrophes.

Following contact of German-Polish forces on September 1, the organization made available medical relief for civilians and armies of Poland; provided aid for Americans repatriating from Europe as they landed in the United States; arranged medical and maintenance assistance to American survivors of the "Athens," first sea casualty of the war; gave financial aid to the American Hospital in Paris, France, and developed a comprehensive communications system to allay the fears of distraught relatives.

Norman H. Davis, chairman, called the International Red Cross Committee in Geneva on September 1 asking what relief would be needed from the American Red Cross as a first step in consolidating Red Cross relief forces throughout the world.

A quick response from the Polish Red Cross to Chairman Davis' cable to the International Committee resulted in an American Red Cross appropriation of $28,000 for the purchase of 45 items of medicines, and for army blankets, quantities of large hospital tents capable of housing 50 stretcher cases each.

A grant of $25,000 was also made to the American Hospital in Paris to evacuate American patients from the hospital and to purchase in the United States a 100 bed hospital unit for shipment to the American organization. It was said.

To meet needs which were thought likely to result from bombardment of rural villages and the passage of hostile armies, the Red Cross called upon 21 of its large city chapters to roll up and dressings of a special new type for European warfare injuries. More than 500,000 yards of gauze were purchased and 40,000 pounds of cotton, enough to make 157,000 surgical dressings.

On September 2, the American Red Cross announced it was organizing to meet repatriating American citizens at seaport cities through chapter reception committees in zones without resources were given temporary shelter, and aided to re-settle in their former homes or work.

Between September 5 and 7, the American Red Cross called $20,000 through the State Department to help American survivors of the "Athens," who had been taken into Irish and Scotch ports.

Red Cross chapters were instructed to accept funds for the purchase of supplies for transportation and funds for purchase of supplies for a designated country to be expended through the Red Cross activity of that nation.

"The Red Cross is not interested in the origins of the present conflict," Chairman Davis declared following his cable offer of assistance to the International Red Cross Committee. "As a part of the great International Red Cross it is our duty to do what we can to aid the helpless civilians who will suffer during the hostilities."

Record Number of Disasters Reported by Red Cross for Year

The American Red Cross gave emergency relief and rehabilitation aid to 154,000 sufferers of 137 disasters in the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, according to a report submitted by Delwin Smith, newly appointed director of the Red Cross disaster relief service.

Mr. Smith declared the number of disaster operations exceeded that of any previous year, with epidemics, epidemics, fire, winter storms, snowfall and other catastrophes striking in 45 states and the territory of Alaska. Red Cross disaster relief expenditures totaled $2,275,159 for the year.

"By far the heaviest in 1931 the Red Cross has aided victims of 2,495 disasters here and abroad, expending $15,000,000 for rescue, food, clothing, shelter, medical aid and nursing aid and the permanent rehabilitation of families unable to re-establish themselves," Mr. Smith said.

Last year the Red Cross helped 41,000 children and their families through its workers stationed at Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Civil Guard Stations and through Red Cross chapters from coast to coast. Recent Congressional action to increase the United States armed forces has necessitated expansion of this vital service to enlisted men by the Red Cross.
